12th Annual SAGE Upstate Community Dinner October 19

Join us on October 19 at the Harrison Center, All Saints Church, for the Community Dinner. The evening begins at 5:30 with a reception where you can enjoy hors d'oeuvres, socialize, and peruse fabulous auction items. When it's time to sit down, choose your seats at tables prepared by volunteer table hosts, whose special touches make the room very festive.

At 6:30 dinner will be served. You'll have some more time to bid in the auction after dinner, but you'll want to get those bids in. When the program starts, the auction is closed. You can claim your prizes after the show. Our program will be offered in a "variety show" format, with music, stories and other treats.

To make a reservation, use the form on the back of this newsletter. Suggested donations start at $25, but any amount is fine. Reserve at sageupstate.org/events. with a charge card. More on pages 9 & 10.

State Funding To End

After October 2024, SAGE Upstate will be going forward without funding from the New York State Department of Health. Once again, we see that state funding can come and go. We are reaching out across the seven county area we serve to look for funding that will keep us strong-- grants, business sponsorships, donations from you, our supporters. See more info on pages 6-7.

Please note: In this issue you'll find info on the fundraising appeal, the Community Dinner, and the Halloween Dance. The Dinner and the Dance are always featured in the October issue, but when you throw in the fundraising appeal and an appeal to business for Dinner program ads ... well it's more "asking for donations" articles than we usually include. We want to show that there are several ways to help and we don't expect that everyone can do all of them (if you can, yay!). Please bear with us as we work hard to replace our lost funding and know that any amount you give will be truly appreciated-- and if your gift is participation and volunteering, we love that too. Thanks in advance.

SAGE Upstate Center Gets new carpet thanks to Onondaga County Funding

SAGE recieved a "Senior Center Improvements" grant from the Onondaga County Department of Adult and Long Term Care Services. After lots of people and programs over the past 12 years, our carpet has gotten a little worn, so we decided to replace it. Now there's new, blue carpeting in most of the center and vinyl flooring in the Derickson-Hardy room which will make it nicer for the Falls Prevention Fitness class, dance classes and other activities. Stop in and see our new look!

SAGE Upstate News is published monthly and features articles and resources on issues affecting older Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) people in Central New York. SAGE Upstate is a not-for-profit organization that promotes the health and well being of GLBT people in Central New York as they age. SAGE Upstate board meetings are open to the community. For more information contact Kim Dill at 315-478-1923 or kdill@sageupstate.org.

All SAGE Upstate activities are accessible unless otherwise noted. Interpreters and large print publications are available on request.

Wouldn't you like to VOLUNTEER?

This month, volunteers are needed for two big events, and for the newsletter mailing.

Community Dinner

October 19, Harrison Center at All Saints Church. Volunteers are needed to help with set up, tasks during the event, and clean up at the end.

Halloween Dance

October 26, 2nd Floor Ballroom of the CNY Philanthropy Center. Volunteers are needed for set up and clean up after the dance

Monthly Newsletter Mailing

As always, we need volunteers to help with mailing the newsletter on the last week of the month. Volunteers gather in the Center to stuff and seal the newsletter, and we provide lunch. If you're interested, let us know and we will contact you with the date and time of the mailing.

If you'd like to help with these or other events, please contact Leslie at llamb@sageupstate.org or 315-478-1923.

SAGE Upstate is funded by the New York State LGBT Health and Human Services Initiative, the Onondaga County Department of Adult and Long Term Care Services, generous individual donors, fundraising events, and business sponsors. Specific program funding comes from SAGE USA, the Health Foundation of Western and Central New York, the CNY Community Foundation, and the Emerson Foundation.

Board Corner

As chair of the SAGE Upstate Board of Directors, I would like to ask readers to continue to support SAGE as you are able to. We are in the middle of a fundraising appeal -- you'll find information on pages 6 and 7 of this issue. You might want to come to the Community Dinner on October 19, or the Halloween Dance on October 26. We need your support for any and all of these activities.

Recently, we were notified that our submission of a grant proposal to the NYS Department of Health was refused. After October, we will not receive funding from the Department of Health. As a result, increased support through grants, donations, and sponsorships is essential so SAGE can continue to provide services and programs for those in the aging LGBTQ population.

We ask participants from the days when SAGE began to support us now so the safe and affirming programs you experienced will continue for those who come to SAGE now.

We ask those of you who are new participants to please support financially with what you can, so that those who come after you will enjoy the services you are getting now.

Thank you for all of your continued support. There are many ways to contribute -- volunteering, participating, donating, leading a group, or serving on our Board. If any have an interest in serving on the SAGE board, please contact me at board@sageupstate.org.

Thank you
- Bob Bezy

What's SAGE Upstate Worth To You?

Maybe you are someone who struggles with isolation and health issues, and maybe you are not. If you're lucky enough to feel connected and healthy, would you consider making a donation to help those who are not?

Loss of state funding has jeopardized SAGE Upstate's ability to offer quality programming to address critical needs at low or no cost to participants. If you are able, consider giving a little more this year to keep budget cuts from eliminating programs for those who need them.

Over the past year, SAGE has grown, reaching more older LGBTQ adults with programs that reduce isolation and improve health

- A total of 6 programs are now meeting in areas outside of Syracuse: Potlucks in Oswego, Utica and Watertown, Lunch & Learns and a Walking group in Utica, and the Oswego "Lunch Bunch."
- The SAGE Neighborhood Advisor program, funded by Onondaga County, continues to help older LGBTQ+ adults remain healthy and independent in the community.
- Gender Blend-- a social/support group for people in Trans Communities -- was established, and meets monthly.
- SPARK (Social Pride Alliance for Rainbow Kinship) was formed to coordinate outreach to LGBTQ BIPOC Communities.
- SAGEVets offers a social/support group for LGBTQ Veterans, and recognizes those who have served.
- Lunch & Learns and Health Series in the SAGE Upstate Center offered presentations on a variety of health issues led by community experts.
- Dance classes, twice weekly Falls Prevention Fitness classes, and 3 walking groups keep SAGErs moving.
- At socials, held in safe and affirming places, people build friendships and support networks.

Why are SAGE programs critical to healthy aging?

Isolation is the enemy of healthy aging. This is true for all who are aging, but additional challenges for those in our community include the fact that we are more likely to live alone and less likely to have children to rely on. Isolation can increase risk for high blood pressure, heart disease, obesity, weakened immune system, depression, and cognitive decline. It can lead to inactivity which can increase risk for falls. In fact, the US Surgeon General warns that isolation poses health risks as deadly as smoking 15 cigarettes a day! On the other hand, people who engage in meaningful activities with others are more likely to live longer, encounter less depression, improve cognitive abilities, and experience well-being.

87% felt less isolated

"Through SAGE I have a broad range of pleasant social occasions and friends, and I would be lost without it. SAGE has made me a much happier person."

88% found support

"I never felt totally accepted until I joined SAGE."

80% reported their lives had improved: "Participating and volunteering at SAGE has increased my sense of purpose, connection, acceptance, and drive to do more and be better."

The Fiber Arts Collaborative has been successful for the past month. People from "Off The Hook" and newcomers joined up with the SAGE Upstate Knitting and Fiber Arts group to create together, while others have been creating squares and sending them to SAGE for the intended tapestry project. We are hoping to have the tapestry completed before the major holidays. If you are interested in making a square, there's still time. Contact Tim at tlattimore@sageupstate.org, or come to a Knitting/Fiber Arts group on Wednesdays at 7 pm.

Intergenerational Day of Peace

On September 26, Project OutLoud and the SAGE Upstate SPARK program held the "Intergenerational Day of Peace." The event welcomed SAGE aged folks, young people from the Q Center, and those in between the two age groups for intergenerational discussions. Speakers included Lisa Alford from ACR Health, Yolanda Flowers of F.A.C.E.S., Jaleel Campbell from Project Outloud, and Tim Lattimore of the SAGE SPARK program. Those present had conversations at their tables about various topics and the program ended with a sharing of some of those conversations in the larger group. We thank all who made this event possible, and hope to have more collaborative events in the future.

celled due to the closeness and similarity of the Intergenerational Day of Peace event (9/26/24). Community Night will start in November. Dates will be posted and announced.

Conversation Café, another new SPARK program for the LGBTQ+ BIPOC Communities will begin on Thursday, October 24 at 6:30 pm. It will be an evening of fun, non-controversial topics, and discussions.

Please share your thoughts and ideas about programs and activities. Email me at tlattimore@sageupstate.org or call SAGE at (315) 478-1923. In the meantime, take care of yourselves and be kind to one another.

Back in February, Jaleel Campbell launched his Project Outloud Awareness Campaign, Shoot. Here is just a handful of the fabulous photos that were taken by photographer Jessica Montgomery that beautifully represent the LGBTQ+ community.

Interested in hosting a table at the Community Dinner?

Hosting a table is NOT about reserving 8 seats -- there is no financial commitment. If you can pull together 8 friends who will reserve their own seats, that's great, but not necessary. Rather, Table Hosts create a welcoming environment with their own personal touches and decorations, and by helping everyone feel like they are a part of the event.

Table hosts bring 8 place settings, glasses, and napkins-- plus other decorations like centerpieces or flowers for their table. We won't be able to wash dishes during the event, so the host clears the table after dinner by putting items in a box in one of the side rooms then taking them home.

Hosts also play a role in making everyone feel a part of this community event by having folks introduce themselves and enaging them in conversation. This is especially important for people who are new or who attend on their own.

If you are interested in hosting, we will send you a guidelines sheet and answer any questions you may have. We thank all past and future table hosts, because their work results in a beautiful room of unique tables, and we know that everyone will feel a part of things. For more info, contact Kim at 315-478-1923 or kdrill@sageupstate.org.

Johna Talks: Trans in the USA

Before we know it, November will be upon us. We will be deciding who to vote for, what we are doing for Thanksgiving, and what to get that special someone on Black Friday. But for the Trans community, November is a time for raising awareness about Trans issues and remembering those we've lost. This year Transgender Awareness Week will be observed November 13 – 19, 2024, followed by Transgender Day of Remembrance on November 20.

In 43 states across the country, we have 658 anti-trans bills filed; 45 have passed, 125 are active, and 488 have failed. Nationally, anti-trans bills are numbered at 80. At the federal level, 53 were introduced across categories like healthcare, student sports, military, incarceration, and education. Five bills were introduced and failed in NYS.

According to US SR53, a recently introduced US Senate resolution:

1. Sex is defined as biological.
2. Binary terms are used to refer to sex (either male or female) – assigned at birth.
3. Parenting terms match biological sex.
4. Distinctions are made between the sexes with respect to athletics, prisons, domestic violence shelters, restrooms, and other areas.
5. Policies and laws distinguish between the sexes and are subject to intermediate constitutional scrutiny.
6. All local and state agencies are required to base data collected on biological sex not gender.

I believe this bill alone will greatly diminish the safety of the Trans community. It could also threaten LGBTQ marriage rights. This is why our voice matters, our vote matters, and awareness of the situation matters. You have the chance now to research the people you are voting for in November, and see where they stand.

We as a community do not want to lose any more of our nonbinary or trans family to violence, which is whom we honor on Trans Day of Remembrance. Last year, 57 trans individuals lost their lives to violence.

When we stand as a community in Pride, with one voice, one song of love, we will not be denied our rights, our pronouns, and our lives. We will rejoice in our safety, in love, and in companionship. The choice is yours; the vote is yours, let your voice be heard.

Johna speaks at last year's Transgender Day of Remembrance event.

This year, SAGE Upstate will participate in the local TDOR remembrance event, organized by the Q Center at ACR Health, which will include a resource fair and a vigil. Watch our website and social media posts for more info. Complete details will be featured in the November newsletter.

GenderBlend, a social/support group for people in trans communities, on the 3rd Saturday of each month at 7 pm.
